SEAFARER

TO CELEBRATE THE IMO YEAR OF THE SEAFARER

Why?

The Philippines is the world's leading supplier of qualified seafarers. IMO has declared 2010 "The Year of the Seafarer" and is holding a major Diplomatic Conference in Manila from 21-25 June to agree amendments to the IMO STCW Convention dealing with seafarers training and certification. Senior representatives from the ILO will also attend and they expect the Maritime Labour Convention to achieve the required number of ratifications during 2010. Never before has there been the opportunity to bring together, in such numbers and in one place, seafarers, their wives and families, the SENIOR officials who regulate the industry and the international maritime community..
